

AS9100 Rev C Upgrade: the changes, their impact, and tools for effective integration

A One Day Seminar Presented by:

Fulcrum Associates, LLC

This September 20th seminar is packed with all the information you will need to upgrade your QMS to meet the Revision C changes.

In addition, you will walk away with a CD containing Fulcrum's Risk Management Module with all of the tools you will need to develop and implement your own Risk Management Process.

We will review all of the changes to the AS9100 standard and discuss how these changes will impact your existing QMS. A matrix showing how the standard changed and what impact these changes have on the requirements will be used to conduct a comprehensive review of all additions, deletions, and changes.

Because the most significant change to the standard is the addition of the requirement to adopt a risk management process, Fulcrum's Risk Management Module will be used to show how to develop a risk management process tailored to the company's needs. The development of the Risk Management Module was based on "ISO 31000 Risk Management – Principles and Guidelines on Implementation."

As an added bonus, included with the Risk Management Module is a Project Management process based on Plan-Do-Check-Act that will serve to satisfy the new requirement to plan and manage product realization in a structured and controlled manner.
